Who we are

Ascentria Services for Children and Families offers a wide range of programs and services for children, at-risk youth and families. These services include two Teen Parenting Programs — The Florence House in Worcester, Massachusetts and The Ruth House in Brockton, Massachusetts — where teen mothers and their children are provided transitional living in a safe, nurturing and therapeutic residential environment.

What we do

Both programs assist teenage mothers and their children by providing housing, case management and training in a structured setting that fosters the development of life skills and healthy family relationships. In addition, supportive activities that help to build family bonds and encourage healthy social relationships are offered.

The ultimate goal? For these teen parents to gain the skills necessary to manage life successfully and to their full potential when they leave.
